ALFRED F. CHALK

Chairman Department of Economics-Texas A. & M. University 1956-1966
College Station, Texas

I began collecting paper currency for at least two reasons. In the first place, I am very much interested in the economic history of the U.S., and I found that many types of currency are clearly reflections of the special economic conditions of the nation at the various times of issue. The fiscal desperation of the North during the Civil War and the various issues of interest-bearing notes during that period illustrate the point. Again, the populist movement of the late nineteenth century and the associated reverence for silver are reflected in the paper currency issued during that era, e.g. Silver certificates and the Treasury Notes of 1890.

The second reason for my hobby was purely economic — the almost ridiculously low prices of paper currency compared with the prices of coins of equal scarcity appealed to the economist in me, for I knew paper currency was grossly undervalued. This fact of the relatively low value of paper currency has begun to be appreciated only recently, and in my judgment current prices will look very cheap indeed 10 years from now. If I were younger, I wouldn't even think about selling my collection!

DEMAND NOTES

As the Treasury was nearly bankrupt at the outbreak of the Civil War, among Treasury Secretary Chase's schemes to finance the war were various issues of interest-bearing notes, together with $50 million in non-interest "greenbacks," emergency notes payable "on demand" at any of five issuing subtreasuries (Boston, NY, Philadelphia, Cincinnati or St. Louis). Less than the authorized amount went into circulation, some 4,360,000 fives, 2,003,000 tens and 910,000 twenties, the first ones with "for the" written, later plates with these words engraved. The fives depict Thomas Crawford's statue of "Freedom," placed atop the U.S. Capitol in Dec. 1863; Hamilton is at right. Engravers included Owen G. Hanks for ABN. Tens show a Lincoln portrait, after a Mathew Brady photograph, with two ABN stock designs, eagle with shield, and one called either "Art" or "Painting." Twenties feature the 1858, ABN stock design "Liberty" by Alfred Jones and James Smillie. All were issued without Treasury Seal. Face plates usually show SERIES followed by a number; at most 100,000 notes were printed of any one series — 25,000 four-subject sheets, lettered A to D, consecutively numbered. Those with "for the" written are without SERIES or plate numbers, though doubtless far less than 100,000 of each denomination and issuing office were printed. Though $20's were made with SERIES, we have seen none to date. Railroads and merchants at first refused to accept Demands, but after federal officials publicly agreed to take them in their salaries, the situation eased slightly; in Sept. 1861 the government advertised that it would redeem the notes in coin, but very little coin was available. They were retired as quickly as possible, mostly in legal tender notes, the retired notes promptly canceled and burnt, accounting for the rarity of survivors. Low grade is usual because the notes were spent at once lest they depreciate. It is estimated that a few hundred fives and tens and possibly 9 or 10 twenties survive today.

LEGAL TENDER NOTES

These began as one of Salmon Chase's emergency measures for financing the Civil War; they were unconstitutional, but issue continued as the Supreme Court kept reversing itself on the question (it is now moot). Of $150,000,000 originally authorized, the first third were intended to redeem the Demand Notes; these were the "First Obligation" bills, exchangeable in any multiple of $50 for 6% bonds. When this privilege expired, the notes promptly depreciated. Issues followed the Demands in design with new reverses and with Treasury seal added (designed to specifications of Spencer Clark, head of the Currency Bureau); all payable in NY. The "Second Obligation" notes all have the obligation in an oval on back. Most come with SERIES, like the Demands; 4-subject plates, A to D, numbered consecutively 1 to 100,000. The $1, $2, $50 and higher denominations were added later; most of the Civil War issue surviving is dated 1863. These notes were mostly retired after the war, exchanged for later issues, except for the First Obligation notes which had long since mostly been exchanged for bonds, so that survivors are now rare.

The Series of 1869 ("Rainbow Issue") began with $1s on paper watermarked USUSUS, quickly followed by paper with blue regions. Issues were large, but instead of SERIES as before, the serial numbers were kept down by use of blocks — the $1's come with prefixes B, K, V, Z and A, the last scarcer; $2's, E, U and Z, last scarcer; generally only one each for higher denominations. The $50's and $500's were extensively counterfeited and the genuine notes were recalled, replaced by Series of 1874.

The Series of 1874 ($1, 2, 50 and 500 only) is notable for transposed signatures on $50's, which continue through Rosecrans-Huston of 1880; the $1 and $2 continue the older design but with smaller seals and red overprints, the $50 and $500 are of new designs, both extremely rare. Series of 1875 ($1-$500) mysteriously begins with 1875A, B, C, D and E on $1's, A and B on some higher denominations, preceding the plain 1875's. The Series of 1878 ($1-$10,000) is of similar designs but completely engraved and printed by the BEP, as are the Series of 1880, notable for numerous signature-seal varieties of great rarity in most denominations. These were followed by the 1901 Bison tens, commemorating the forthcoming Lewis & Clark Exposition (blocks B and D being rare) and the 1907 $5;s, the latter of 1880 design except for a red overprint at left. The last LT's are the 1917 $1's and $2's, printed in enormous quantities (blocks AA, BA, DA, EA, HA, KA, MA, NA, RA and TA, this order long since being officially fixed), and notable for the famous "transposed signatures" error on plate 1519 of $1's; and the 1923 $1's and $10's, the former the prototype of the Small Size notes, the $10 rare and issued for only two weeks in Feb. 1926.

INTEREST BEARING NOTES

The Civil War issues listed by Friedberg are actually the last few types in a series stretching back to 1812, mostly unknown to the average collector. The emergency of having to recruit, outfit, feed and pay some 500,000 Union troops from an almost empty Treasury resulted in the Act of July 17, 1861, authorizing both the Demands and the first coupon notes, the 7-30's of 1861 (i.e. 7.30% interest), now usually called 3-year notes; complete descriptions are unavailable. These were followed by notes under the Act of March 3, 1863: 2-year 5% notes, with or without coupons, registered by issue date and overprint date, in the usual $50, 100, 500 and 1000 denominations; 1-year 5% notes, same denominations plus $10, 20 and 5000, without coupons. Two 2-year $50's are known, one $100, compared to 16 or 17 each of 1-year $10's and 20's, 3 $50's and 1 $100.

The 1863 act also authorized Compound Interest notes, which appeared in soldiers' pay envelopes; same denominations. The earliest (Chittenden-Spinner, dated June 10, 1864) are exceedingly rare: about 7 $10's, one $50 and one $100 (here offered) are known. The second issue (same signers, July 15, 1864) is about equally rare: 5 $10's, 1 or 2 $20's, nothing higher though some counterfeit $50's survive. The third issue (Colby-Spinner, dates between Aug. 15, 1864 and Sept. 15, 1865) was enormous; to date about 25 $10's, 22 $20's, 5 $50's, 2 or 3 $100's (plus many fakes dated May 15, 1865, with U and final S too near counters, like that pictured in Friedberg) survive, mostly in the same grade range as the Demands.

Two more emissions of coupon 7-30's ("3-year notes") followed, one under Act of June 30, 1864, the other under Act of March 3, 1865. Of the former, two $50's and one $500 survive; of the latter, about 7 $50's, 2 $100's and one $1000.

The final interest-bearing issue aimed at the general public is the 1879 $10 Refunding Certificates: 5,850 payable to order (one known), 3,995,425 payable to bearer (a few hundred known, mostly in low grades). These accrued interest until 1907, most long since being cashed or turned in for bonds.

SILVER CERTIFICATES

These were a byproduct of issue of Morgan dollars, ultimately the result of lobbying by Richard P. "Silver Dick" Bland and Senator William B. Allison on behalf of super-rich silver mine owners, whose dreams of even greater wealth depended on the mint being a captive market for their metal. The silver certificates began as warehouse receipts, $10 and up, countersigned by an Assistant Treasurer in NY or San Francisco or Washington. Very few are known of the countersigned notes of 1878 or early 1880, though issues were large; the first few thousand were autographed, the remainder with engraved countersignatures. All have SILVER in large letters across backs. The 1880 series uncountersigned notes are more numerous but still rare in decent shape.

In August 1886 Congress authorized new Silver Certificates, $1 through $20, followed by Series of 1891 in $1 through $1000. The 1886's are notable for ornate space-filling reverses, the $5 being famous for depicting five Morgan dollars. The 1891's appear to have been issued with changed design because of deceptive counterfeits of 1886; the higher denominations were reissued in 1908, some with unchanged 1891 series date. The higher denominations are very rare.

Probably the most famous and popular of all Silver Certificates are the 1896 "Educational" $1, 2, 5. Issues were very large — 57,344,000 $1's, 28 million (?) $2's, 35,012,000 $5's, the last few million withdrawn owing to political pressure exerted by Anthony Comstock, who maintained that Ms. Electricity's partial nudity was obscene, unintentionally creating a rarity (the Lyons-Roberts $5's).

Their Series of 1899 replacements, an extremely complex group owing to signature and block varieties, were saved in large quantities, including many low and unusual numbers. Star or replacement notes are found beginning in Vernon-McClung. The $5 has become very popular owing to G.F.C. Smillie's splendid portrait of Chief Running Antelope.

The final issue consisted of 1923 $1's and $5's, naming no authorizing act. Quantities of the $1 were enormous; of the $5 only 6,316,000.

COIN NOTES

Officially "Treasury Notes of 1890," these were another byproduct of "Silver Dick" Bland's continuing efforts to force up silver prices on behalf of the mine owners. With the expiration of the Bland-Allison Act, "Silver Dick" and friends managed to push the Sherman Silver Purchase Act through Congress, forcing the Treasury to buy 4,500,000 oz. of silver each month to coin into silver dollars only, paying in Coin Notes. These were redeemed in gold and reissuable, so that the mine owners and others sold silver to the Treasury, redeemed the notes in gold, used the gold to buy more silver in the open market and resell it at the higher rate to the Treasury, and so in in an endless chain, till by 1893 the Treasury was almost stripped of gold and nearly bankrupt. One month after Cleveland was inaugurated, farm crop prices collapsed, thousands of factories shut down, 300 banks failed, tax payments dwindled, and the Treasury continued to pay out gold for Coin Notes, enriching the mine owners at everyone else's expense. Cleveland called a special session of Congress to repeal the Sherman Act, which was finally done.

In the meantime, the Coin Notes, mostly portraying military figures, had been issued and reissued till the Series of 1890 survivors became mostly rags and tatters. Later on, the Series of 1891 notes were redeemed only in silver. Survivors even of these are now scarce, and the denominations above $10 are very rare despite large printages. Overenthusiastic Treasury writeoffs indicate as outstanding only 6226 $1's, 3,229 $2's, 1400 $5's, 630 $10's, 290 $20's (only about 40 1890's and 15 1891's traced), 7 $50's (of which 8 to 10 are traced!), 20 $100's (of which 10 1890 "Watermelons" and 2 or 3 1891's are known), and 5 $1000's (of which 5 1890 "Grand Watermelons" and 2 1891's are reported!). The 1891 $500's were never issued, probably because of fear of repercussions in the South, where General Sherman (whom they portrayed) was ranked a couple of steps lower than the devil.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK NOTES

Because there was no central clearing house to service several thousand National Banks, no rediscounting facility, and a kind of rugged individualism in banking practice which struck bankers worldwide as primitive, any occasional tightness in the money supply was likely to result in bank failures, factory closures, mortgage foreclosures, and mass unemployment. All this reached a climax in 1907; by December the entire NB system was on the verge of collapse. The 1908 Aldrich-Vreeland Act provided temporary relief, but by 1912 the same conditions were reappearing. Senator Aldrich then proposed a national reserve association with voluntary bank membership, to prevent a recurrence of 1907, only to find the farm bloc opposing it: a recrudescence of the old Jackson v. Bank of the US battles. At the same time, a House Committee revealed terrific Wall St. scandals — half a dozen firms, operating as a cartel, almost cornering the money market. Though Aldrich's bill failed, Carter Glass promptly introduced its twin, which managed to pass as the Federal Reserve Act. This set up a banker's bank, performing via its 12 branches the same services for member banks as they in turn did for depositors. In addition, the Fed was to exercise control over the money supply, buying and selling bonds in the open market, to avoid a return of 1857, 1873, 1893 or 1907. (Not that this was successful, as 1921 and 1929-36 proved.) The individual branches, largely autonomous, functioned as part of the NB system; as they could and did buy the special government bonds which included the circulation privilege, they could and did issue notes, the FRBNS, backed by gold and certain types of bonds on deposit. The Series of 1915 FRBNs, were printed in very limited quantities, $5 through $50, though only a small fraction ever left the banks: only St. Louis $50's, only four banks' twenties and tens, only five banks' $5's. Higher denominations were authorized but none printed.

However, the 1918 Pittman Act authorized the Treasury to issue FRBNs, including $1's and $2's, to buy silver after the war — 350,000,000 oz. at $1 per oz. The vast majority were $1's.

Many signature varieties are very rare in all denominations. Research is not yet complete in this field, especially the Series of 1915.

FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES

Though issued under Section 16 of the same authorizing act as the FRBNs, these were obligations of the government, not the individual banks, They were redeemable in gold at the Treasury Dept., or in "lawful money" (whatever that vague phrase was taken to mean) at any branch of the Fed. They were issued at discretion, for making advances to individual FRBs, through officers called Federal Reserve Agents, in exchange for various types of negotiable paper. Each bill must show the District letter-number; and no branch bank may pay out another branch's notes. Originally the denominations were to be $5, 10, 20, 50 and 100 only, but by an amendment signed into law Sept. 26, 1918, the denominations of $500, $1000, $5000 and $10,000 were added. The notes were to be held in the Treasury or the nearest subtreasury or mint (!) until called for by each branch.

They quickly became the workhorses of the currency. Issued in enormous quantities, they were quickly retired. It is not certain that specimens survive of all signature varieties listed in Friedberg, nor do we know of a complete collection ever having been put together.

The first ones, made in late 1914-15, had red seals. However, the red dye cohineal could no longer be obtained owing to World War 1, and blue seals were substituted at once. Red seals are all very scarce, the higher denominations rare.

Notations like F-832a, b refer respectively to absence or presence of district letter-number above upper left plate check letter.

Denominations above $50 in blue seals are very seldom available even in worn condition. As of Dec. 8, 1941, the last date for which official redemption records are available, only a few thousand were outstanding of any branch's $100's, only a few hundred $500's, only tiny handfuls of higher denominations; most of these have long since been redeemed. All branches issued $500's and $1000's, but the Philadelphia notes were all redeemed and none are known of some other branches. Most of these bore either Burke-Glass or White-Mellon signatures. Only 13 $5000's are outstanding, only 10 $10,000's, but fewer are known of either. Research is still continuing.

NATIONAL GOLD BANK NOTES OF CALIFORNIA

As the California state banking law originally outlawed paper currency of any kind, and as the federal paper began depreciating during the Civil War, the state Specific Contract Law, April 27, 1863, made even the government's own notes refusable. Without bringing up the issue of sedition or nullification, the government finally passed an act, July 12, 1870, authorizing certain California banks to issue notes redeemable only in gold, as a substitute for ordinary NBNs. Each issuing bank had to keep on hand a redemption fund in gold for the purpose; no ordinary NBs could redeem them. Only ten banks applied for charters — one in Boston, which never issued any notes, and nine in California; issues were large but redemption was nearly complete so that not all types known to have been issued still survive. All notes are on yellowish paper (except for certain Series of 1875); all have James Smillie's "Gold Back" vignette, showing a group of gold coins, the most prominent an 1871 double eagle. Faces are similar to the regular First Charter NBNs though the wording specifies "National Gold Bank" and redeemability in Gold Coin. The vast majority of survivors in all denominations are from bank #1741, the First NGB, which in 1884 reverted to a regular NB and later became part of the Crocker-Citizens complex, still surviving. As these notes circulated long and freely, survivors from any bank are mostly in well worn condition; a strictly Fine NGBN is an extreme rarity. The earliest ones are without charter number; these are mostly nearly as rare as the Series of 1875's.

GOLD CERTIFICATES

These began as a kind of warehouse receipts, intended only for inter-bank clearing house use, never to be paid out to the public; they were another of Salmon P. Chase's ideas for financing the Civil War, being paid out only for gold deposited in the Treasury. The very earliest ones (Series of 1863, 1870-71 and 1875) were very limited issues, registered, some payable at New York, others at Washington (so stated on their faces), and survivors are almost unknown; we have not even full descriptions of some denominations.

In 1882 a new Act of Congress made gold certificates receivable for taxes, tariffs and payments for government bonds; this made them issuable to the public. The earliest of these were payable at NY, countersigned by Assistant Treasurer Acton, the first few thousand autographed, the rest with engraved countersignature; these are all very rare, the autographs of the highest rarity. Later notes were marked DEPARTMENT SERIES meaning payable at Washington, without countersignature. Some of the higher denomination signature varieties are known only to rumor; information is incomplete as to amounts issued of many of these, and full descriptions of the 1888 $5,000 and $10,000 notes are unavailable. However, twenties of 1905 and 1906, and tens of 1907, were made in quantity, though the 1905 $20's ("Technicolor Issue") usually come tattered. The 1907 $1000's are exceedingly rare in all signature varieties.

The final Large Size gold notes are of Series of 1922, in $10, 20, 50, 100, 500 and 1000 denominations, all Speelman-White, all modified by adding a legal tender provision left of vignette. They were issued in huge quantities, but most were turned in for other kinds of paper in 1934; most survivors are well worn.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

When the NYC banks suspended specie payments late in December 1861, all kinds of coins vanished from circulation overnight, no matter how much the mint tried to increase its output. Private firms began issuing cent-size tokens and shinplasters in thousands of varieties; other people tried to circulate postage stamps. Treasurer Spinner took the hint and induced Congress to authorize issue of fractional notes, the first issue (late Aug. 1862) actually reading POSTAGE CURRENCY and bearing stamp designs, a small minority perforated like stamps to ease separation into single notes; this last experiment was abandoned at once as the notes promptly became tattered.

In Oct. 1863 a new "second" issue followed, all denominations (5, 10, 25, 50¢ as before) portraying Washington within a bronze oval; the first ones, now rare, were on fragile fibre paper that promptly split and tattered, the rest on plain banknote paper, after the inventor of fibre paper was jailed without cause and released without charges. Those with extra corner surcharges came before those without them. Uncut sheets of both postage currency and Second Issue were paid out to soldiers; sheets and blocks and strips circulated along with single notes.

Beginning in Dec. 1864 the Third Issue notes, officially "New Fractionals," appeared, including (Jan.-March 1865) a 3¢ denomination, which was abolished and replaced by nickel 3¢ coins. Because the 5¢ portrayed Spencer Clark, head of the Currency Bureau (later the BEP), an enraged Congress in April 1866 abolished the denomination, replacing it by nickel 5¢ coins, and forbade portrayal of any living person on notes or bonds; this law was invoked only against Clark and against Grant & Sherman on the well-known 15¢ "essays." Uniface specimens of all denominations were issued for collectors, some few autographed. The 10¢ omits any mention of CENTS. Some of the earliest 25¢ and 50¢ notes were printed on leftover fibre paper; these are rare. Shields were made up in 1866-68, each containing 39 uniface specimens, for bank display and counterfeit detection; most survivors were water damaged in a government warehouse.

Between July 1869 and Feb. 1875, the Fourth Issue notes, all signed Allison-Spinner, went into circulation; they are the first to bear the Treasury seal. Only those issued through Oct. 1869 were on paper watermarked USUSUS; later, paper with red silk fibres followed, and from Jan. 1870 on the blue stain paper familiar from the "Rainbow Issue" legals. A smaller red seal (38 mm) replaced the former larger one (40 mm) from Dec. 1871 on. This issue featured a 15¢ note, which was never popular. The first 50¢ portrayed Lincoln and were promptly counterfeited and withdrawn; the replacements, portraying Stanton (now believed to have suborned the assassination of Lincoln), printed from Jan. 1870 through June 1873, were also counterfeited. The finai 50¢, marked SERIES OF 1873, portraying Dexter, were issued from Aug. 1873 through Feb. 1874.

The Fifth Issue consists of 10¢ and 25¢ marked SERIES OF 1874 (Allison-Spinner) and 50¢ marked SERIES OF 1875 (Allison-New). The earliest ones with green seals are over 20 times scarcer than the red seals, issued in enormous quantities. All became obsolete in 1876 when specie payments were resumed. — Walter Breen

Lot No. 3338

FIVE DOLLARS DEMAND NOTES

3338 F1 1861 NEW YORK, small "for the", Sharp Very Fine (actually XF but bold creases and tiny nick at top); crisp & bright with only slight traces of circulation. Rarely seen this nice; not priced above "VG" in references.

3339 F1 1861 NEW YORK, small "for the", Very Fine appearing but closed tear. Scarce in all grades and quite desirable.

3340 F3 1861 BOSTON, Large 'For the' left, small 'for the' right, VG or better, fairly bright, vivid with intense green inking, small edge tear but no significant fraying; overall well above average for these. It is not known if the large and small 'for the' were intentional changes, though the use of both sizes on the one note is certainly unusual. PLATE

TEN DOLLAR DEMAND NOTES

3341 F6 1861 NEW YORK, "for the" Large, Fine to Very Fine appearing (several short tears, pinhole), overall pleasing appearance. Issued & circulated during the war years, very few survived...not priced above VG in Friedberg! Rare & desirable. PLATE

3342 F6 1801 NEW YORK "For The" Large Very Good (close top, edge tears, nick), not badly soiled & free from most of the usual defects

SUPERIOR CONDITION $10 DEMAND NOTE

3344 F7 Similar, Large "For the", VG, tear at left and tiny hole. Nice appearing specimen of this first, and only year of issue.

3345 F7 Similar, but small "for the", Good or better, mended; obv. appears considerably better than rev. and would suggest a grade of better than VG. Acceptable example of this rarity.

Lot No. 3346

3346 F8 1861 BOSTON, small 'for the', Series 4, no. 21498, face plate 3. Extremely Fine but has been skillfully washed and ironed. Margins narrow but clean, A substantial four figure note.

Lot No. 3347

3347 F8 Similar but Large "For The", better than VG, margins narrow but without visible fraying; one tiny split patched (about ⅛" square) on back. Very different from the small "for the" variety (note use of capital letters on the large "For"), significance unknown but obviously deserves further study. Were this a more modern note the difference would be reflected in varying prices in catalogues.

Lot No. 3368

EXTREMELY RARE UNLISTED $1 1878

3368 Type of F27 1878 Allison-Gilfillan, A9797886 (highest SN observed); face plate 115. Seal and overprinted cartouche at right not in the normal bright red color but in a distinctive maroon, SN's normal. The note is crisp, New, bright, vivid, clean, with one pin hole and signs of counting near r. end; the condition rules out chemical activity. The first of these seen to date which could be said to have a convincing maroon seal; the fractional notes often so claimed have not been convincing. Here the difference between seal and SN colors is very marked, and the difference between the seal color on this note and that on others of 1875-80 in various denominations is equally marked. Ex A.A. Grinnell:47, with original ticket!

3369 F30 1880 Bruce-Wyman, crisp, new CHOICE! (150.00)

3370 F35 1880 Tillman-Morgan, crisp New, SUPERB! (275.00)

3371 F35 1880 Similar and F40 1923 Nice, Very Fine. Pair.

3372 F37 1917 Elliott-Burke. Very rare block M-A; exceedingly rare "palindrome" number 77677. Crisp brilliant, choice. This is the rarest block with these signatures; the present note is the highest SN ever encountered from it! (Block MA was completed in F-38 and 39.) The few other specimens seen from this block with these signatures have been low numbers, except for one other palindrome, 77277. Rarer than similar items in 1899 Silver Certificates, as for unknown reasons fewer collectors paid attention to Legals between the two World Wars. Like other similar items, this was probably part of the George H. Blake, Col. Green holdings, but no documentation. PLATE

3373 F37 1917 Elliott-Burke, crisp New. Another Very rare block M-A; very rare "palindrome" 101.

3374 F37 1917 Elliott-Burke, crisp, new, choice. (50.00)

3385 F42 1869 Very Fine. Another popular rainbow. (250.00)

Lot No. 3387

3387 F45 1875 SERIES A, Allison-New. EF+, bright, crisp, one corner soft skillfully washed and ironed. It is thought that only 1,288,000 were issued of Series A, followed by Series B and by the plain 1875's F44 and 47 in that order. Very difficult to find in any grade.

3388 F48 1878 Allison-Gilfillan, crisp New, tiny corner creases, bright colors, well-centered.

EXCEEDINGLY RARE $2 1878 F49 SCOFIELD-GILFILLAN

3391 F49 1878 Scofield-Gilfillan, A2438281, face plate 52 as always. Good, not too clean, small tear at upper r. margin skillfully repaired (cemented); better looking than we make it sound. Exceedingly rare, one of only six different ones we have recorded, a seventh being reported, the SN's scattered as this erroneously signed plate was used in small batches alternating with other plates. Ex H.R. 11/69:3947

3392 F51 1880 Bruce-Gilfillan, New, Crisp, CHOICE! (225.00)

3393 F51 1880 Bruce-Gilfillan, Crisp, New, Nice Margins. (175.00)

Lot No. 3395

3395 F53 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, large red "spikes," A1352166, face plate 64; highest SN observed to date, conjectured quantity issued 1,440,000. Ex. Fine plus, brilliant, crisp between its single light vertical and faint horizontal folds; overall beautiful example of this great rarity, less than six observed in the last fifteen years. By actual count, this is in the same rarity class with the famous 1878 F-49 Scofield-Gilfillan $2, but it has not had equal publicity.

EXCESSIVELY RARE $5 1863 NUMBER ONE NOTE!

3404 F63 1863 (one serial #1), condition Very Good. SERIAL NUMBER 1! PLATE A! The first note on the first sheet from this entire series!! This note, worth about $60 for 'type', realized $4,000.00 at private treaty. We would not be surprised if it brought somewhat more than that amount at auction today. AN OUTSTANDING RARITY OF THE FIRST MAGNITUDE!!!!!!

3405 F63 1863, New; rounded corners. several brown spots. (300.00)

3406 F64 1869, CHOICE Crisp NEW! The beautiful and popular "technicolor note." Many consider this 1869 series the most beautiful U.S. Currency, while others prefer the 1896.

3407 F64 1869, New Crisp, Very CHOICE! Another beautiful Rainbow Series.

3408 F64 1869, crisp New, well-centered, Very CHOICE. Excellent type.

3410 F64 1869, Crisp New, choice except corner crease. Technicolor.

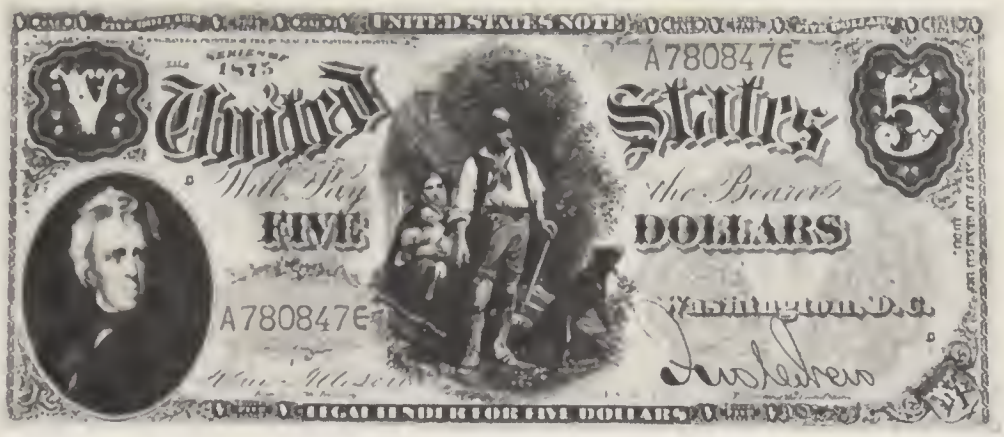
3411 F64 1869 Crisp near New - beautiful "rainbow colored" paper.



Lot No. 3412

3412 F66 1875 "SERIES A" Allison-New, A780847, face plate 7; highest SN observed to date. Difficult to grade, superficially looks crisp but quite aged (though the red overprinting is about normal in tint); under a glass, all four corners show fraying; obvious counting marks at right end. Fully acceptable example of this very rare note most survivors are numbered 7808xx, evidently from a tiny hoard. The F-66's were printed in the last half of 1876, preceding F-67, 65 and 68 in that order; they are thought to have numbered 1,960,000, but if so, most of the print order did not get into circulation.

3413 F67 1875 "SERIES B" crisp, New, 2 tiny pinholes, tiny brown spot, scarce.

3414 F68 1875 Allison-Wyman, crisp New, Choice.(200.00)

3415 F69 1878 A2488026, face plate 34. Almost Ex. Fine, bright, vivid, paper aging. Greatly underrated. The present note has the highest SN ever encountered; Bureau records claim over 9 million printed but only 603,200 released into circulation, which means that most of this issue must have been retired at once and replaced by the Series of 1880. If those records are to be trusted, they would indicate that the 1878 is rarer than 1875B despite contrary listings. PLATE

3416 F71 1880 Bruce-Gilfillan (lg. brn.), Bright New, Crisp! (200.00)

3417 F73 1880 Bruce-Wyman, large plain red seal. Brilliant, crisp, Choice. Despite trivial signs of counting at r. end; a beauty! Rarer than F-74 despite contrary listings; only about ⅓ as many made. PLATE

3418 F73 1880 Bruce-Wyman (red), crisp New. (275.00)

3419 F74 1880 Rosecrans-Jordan, Crisp New. (300.00)

3420 F76 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, large red "spikes." VF, bright, vivid, fairly clean, paper beginning to age a little; one minute corner pin hole. Very scarce in all grades; only about five million were printed, compared to about 2.5 million of F-73, 6 million of F-74, 1.5 million of F-75, 3 million of F-77 and possibly 640,000 of F-78, which makes these notes with large spiked seals among the most difficult of $5 Legals. PLATE

3421 F77 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, large brown "spikes." EF, choice, bright vivid, really crisp on either side of its faint vertical fold. Only about 3,000,000 of these printed and not many have observed in any grade. Rarer than preceding, though it has not listed so high.

3422 F78 1880 Rosecrans-Nebeker, large brown "spikes." Crisp, New CHOICE, brilliant light counting marks at r. end; good margins; at top a little wider than normal so that parts of initials and design elements normally trimmed off show at very top of back. The rarest of these 1880 $5's except for the unseen F-73a. VERY RARE. To date fewer than nine have been recorded!

3425 F86 1907 Napier-Thompson, Very Fine, except corner repairs. Scarce!

3426 F92 1907 Brilliant, crisp, choice; top margin narrow to close. This issue was large but evidently interrupted on adoption of the small size in 1929; now much rarer, especially choice than the others of this series except for F-86.

3437 F96 1869 Crisp near new (short edge tear); close bottom & top.

3438 F103 1880 Bruce-Wyman, large plain red seal. Crisp and brilliant, though with signs of counting at r. end. Very scarce, like all these with large seals and blue SNs. Fewer made than of the F-105. Popular jackass note, (inverted eagle appears to be head of a "jackass" mule).

3439 F105 Rosecrans-Hyatt (plain red), Very Fine. (150.00)

3440 F106 1880 Rosecrans-Hyatt (red-spikes), crisp New, nice color & margins. (450.00) PLATE

Lot No. 3441

3441 F108 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, large brown "spikes". crisp and brilliant; light counting marks at r. end. Grinnell believed it rarer than F-107, of which supposedly "only a few were issued." In our experience both these numbers are very difficult and there is not a great deal of difference in the rarity of survivors.

3442 F111 1880 Tillman-Morgan, crisp New, popular "jackass" note. (250.00)

3443 F114 1901 Lyons-Roberts, New, soil at rt, nice color & margins. Popular Bison note. PLATE

Lot No. 3488

EXCEEDINGLY RARE 1878 $100

3488 F171 1878 Left, Charles Burt's vignette of Lincoln, after a Mathew Brady photograph. Center, small head of Liberty wearing Phrygian cap, probably in allusion to freeing of the slaves; elaborate red overprint above UNITED STATES. Right, Louis Delnoce's "Reconstruction." Allison-Gilfillan, A122281, face plate 2. Fine or better, fairly bright and vivid, aging. Exceedingly rare. Only 202,000 originally issued, of which to date exactly five are reported. One of the five is impounded in Chase Manhattan Bank Money Museum; one (unc.) brought $11,100 in 1974 Metropolitan Washington sale; the other two are about like this one. This came with the pedigree "Ex Kagin 279th sale, lot 277," but that piece was supposed to have been ex Grinnell:168, which original listing specified plate letter C (this has A), and to have reappeared in the Sept. 1968 Kagin sale. Whatever its actual origin, it is one of the rarest of all Legals; fewer are known to survive of this issue than of the more famous 1869, and is equal in rarity to the 1875A.

3490 F178 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, large brown "spikes." F-178 A305964, face plate 2471, back plate 2470. Bright, vivid, this has had too many folds to qualify as VF, and the very bottom of central fold is skillfully mended on back, not affecting anything; overall can be called Fine. One of only three known, the low (259512) from the Donlon reference collection, the former high (288196) in the Chase Bank Money Museum; this third specimen, with highest SN, is almost certainly ex A.A. Grinnell:174.

POSSIBLY UNIQUE FIRST EMISSION 1864 COMPOUND INTEREST $100 NOTE

3495 Generally similar to F-193 except for signatures. Act of March 3, 1863. "The Guardian" left, Washington center, "Justice and Shield" right. Overprinted red issue date June 10, 1864, signed Chittenden-Spinner (not Colby-Spinner). No. 3545 C, plate 1. Better than VF (bought as EF), mostly clean, bright, black and green printing and red overprinting vivid, bronze overprinting retaining almost completely its original metallic lustre (very slightly dulled but not oxidized and not affecting the paper). Beyond doubt genuine, which is more than can be said for the four May 15, 1865 (Third Emission, Colby-Spinner) Hundreds, including that pictured in Friedberg, by which this design was originally believed to survive. The present note, without known auction history, was apparently a discovery of recent years, not even rumored to exist earlier. It is the only one ever reported. The First Emission hundreds, issued between June 20 and July 14, 1864, all bore the June 10, 1864 red overprint date; they were issued in four-subject sheets with repeat numbering (letters A to D), in all 40,032 being printed, serials 1 to 10008 inclusive, of which 39,176 were released, serials 1 to 9794. As of June 30, 1895, only 59 were listed as outstanding on Treasury books, compared to 278 of Second and Third Emission hundreds together. By comparison, the Second Emission specified Act of June 30, 1864, had signatures of Chittenden-Spinner, and bore overprint date July 15, 1864; 14,300 sheets (57,200 notes) were issued with the same overprint date, between July 15 and Aug. 24, 1864; no survivor is reported. Of the Third Emission, under Act of June 30, 1864, signed Colby-Spinner, a total of 50,600 sheets (202,400 notes), numbered between 14301 and 64900, were issued bearing dates Aug. 15, Oct. 15, or Dec. 15, 1864; of these a single Dec. 15 note, laminated and with bronze overprinting eaten through, ex Edgar Levy coll., was in the Hollinbeck-Kagin 279th Sale. Afterwards, from the same plates, with overprint dates May 15, Aug. 1 and Sept. 1, 1865, a total of 37,800 sheets (151,200 notes), numbered between 64901 and 102700, were issued; to date the issue is represented by at least four counterfeits, from a plate captured in March, 1866, with U and final S much too close to counters, with overprint date May 15, 1865; one is pictured in Friedberg, one in Hessler, one was in the 1972 ANA sale, and at least one other was offered at a midwest convention a few years ago. These plates were described in Dickerson's Counterfeit Detector in 1899, and lately exposed in PAPER MONEY (55:8, Jan. 1975). However, the Amon Carter Jr. collection contains a genuine August 1, 1865 note, and one other is reported. The workmanship on all genuine notes matches that in the cancelled proof in the Nov. 1969 HR sale, lot 3761, including the present specimen. We have gone into this much detail about survivors to show not only that the present note is genuine, but why it is much rarer as a design than anyone hitherto suspected (at most one survivor of the First Emission and two genuine of the Third!), and why the present note is technically UNIQUE. It is certainly the most important discovery in Compound interest notes in the history of numismatics.

FINEST OF THREE KNOWN ONE-YEAR $50 INTEREST BEARING NOTES

3496 F198 Five Per Cent Legal Tender Note of 1864, commonly called One Year Note. Act of March 3, 1863, signed Chittenden-Spinner as always. "Loyalty" left, green lathework overprint center, "Hamilton" right. Overprint date April 11, 1864. No. 35145 A, plate 2. Treasury Dept. credit at upper right (earlier ones had ABN credit). At least Very Fine, though bought as EF; brilliant, vivid, mostly clean and fairly crisp but with a few too many light folds for full EF grade. However the note is so rare that the grade is irrelevant. Between Feb. 29 and April 19, 1864 (though bearing overprint dates between March 1, and April 16), a total of 164,800 notes were printed in four-subject sheets, numbered 1 through 41200 (letters A to D): of these only 131 were listed as outstanding as of June 30, 1895. At present only three specimens are reported, of which the present note is by far the finest! The other two: no. 8525 D issued March 16, overprint date March 15, is pictured in Friedberg, and is missing one corner; and one with letter D, plate 2, issued either April 18 or 19 but dated April 14, SN not stated but evidently (from official records) either between 38001 and 39000 or between 40701 and 41200, was lot 228, Grinnell sale; this also was patched and was the best known to Grinnell, which means that he could never have known of the present note, which has no previous auction history. A most extraordinary discovery, absolutely unprecidented; no basis exists for estimating its value. However, it is — as a design — even rarer than the $100 Compound Interest in this sale, and may well bring a somewhat higher figure. ANA Convention sales have long been the traditional place for announcing the discovery of extraordinary currency rarities, and the present one is no exception. Worthy of the most illustrious currency collection in the world.

FRIEDBERG'S PLATE NOTE: ONE OF TWO KNOWN $50 THREE-YEAR NOTES OF 1864

3497 F212 Engraved date August 15th, 1864. Left and right, oval counters. Center, Henry Gugler's "jackass" eagle in its largest and doubtless original version. Green overprinted borders including Treasury credit, a reference to 5 coupons at bottom (none are attached), and at top INTEREST ONE CENT PER DAY. Payable to blank order (a name has faded out.) Colby-Spinner. No. 24346A. Rev. within oval space at center, PAY TO BEARER (endorsement has faded out), convertibility clause, flanked by large counters. F-212. VG or better, r. edge close and slightly ragged (mended skillfully with translucent tape, affecting no design elements). The identical note picture in Friedberg. One of only two known to survive out of a total original issue of 623, 408 7-30's of 1864, the rest being redeemed quickly for the interest. (The official title 7-30's of 1864 referred to the 7.30% interest rate). The other survivor, no. 65433, is from a different plate with "Treasurer of the United States" far to left of its usual position; it was from Philpott and was last sold publicly in Jan. 1963, so that one could say that both it and the present note are technically unique. Ex A.A. Grinnell:230, F.C.C. Boyd, Lee-Freeman: 2390, 1970 ANA: 1970, where this was a bargain at $3,750.00

In any event, it is exceedingly rare, like all countersigned notes. Originally one of only 384,000 printed and issued between March 2 and Nov. 20, 1880 and in fact from the first batch of 200,000 issued in March, 1880 (none known from later batches), this is one of five recorded survivors, only one of which is in high condition. Last auction record, 1957 ANA sale. Ex. Mehl Grinnel Duplicates: 1535, as "F-VF", W.A. Philpott collection. Lot No. 3573

3573 F304 1908 Parker-Burke, Brilliant and crisp, light signs of counting including a short faint incomplete diagonal fold; top margin narrow. Rarer than the F-302; though a higher number were made, none have been seen from the 1919-23 issues (3592001—4456000) and it is presumed that these were either retained undistributed or redeemed.

TWENTY DOLLAR SILVER CERTIFICATES Lot No. 3574

3576 F310 1880 Large brown XX below seal, Bruce-Gilfillan, B1754545, face plate 7, back plate 8. Very Good, fairly vivid, paper aged; various tiny tears skillfully repaired; margins narrow, top close, but without significant fraying. With a total issue of 496,000 (Aug. 15, 1882 — May 9, 1883) and possibly 15 to 20 survivors, this is rarer than the F-309 or 311! Most are in low grades, considerably worse than this one.

Lot No. 3577

EXTREMELY RARE $20 F-312

3577 F312 1880 as preceding but Bruce-Wyman and small red plain seal, A20049+, face plate 11, back plate 9. Very Good or better, bright, vivid, aged, several tiny frayed places in top border mended with great skill; superficially the note looks nearer to Fine. Extremely rare, one of possibly a dozen known out of 124,000 printed (April 6 through 29, 1887); this is the lowest SN reported, the highest being 95925. Actually in a rarity class with F-308 and should be priced in its class; in terms of number made, this has the edge, as there were 182,000 F-308's. A real prize. Note Lyn Knight price list offered VF one in April at $6,500.00

Lot No. 3578

RARE $20 1886 F-315 SILVER CERTIFICATE

3578 F315 1886 Rosecrans-Nebeker, B1209080, face plate 3. Fine to VF, bright, vivid, clean for the grade; excellent margins; faint discoloration on Ms. (?) Agriculture's garment. Under a glass this great rarity appears to have been an extremely skillful restoration (by washing & ironing); it has at least one prior sale record as "EF"! Amount issued unknown but evidently small; observed SN's are in the narrow range 1110126 to 1209836, mostly in lower grades. Ex 1974 MANA:1044; earlier, L.S. Werner. Note Lyn Knight price list (April) VF at $1,500.00.

3579 F318 1891 Tillman-Morgan, VF (washed).

Lot No. 3580

VERY RARE $20 1891 F-320 SILVER CERTIFICATE

3580 F320 1891, Hatch's portrait of Daniel Manning, flanked by a very androgynous "Agriculture" and a very macho "Mechanics," Lyons-Roberts, E8681424, face plate 13, back plate 25. Brilliant, crisp, CHOICE! Very rare, by far the rarest of this type; under 400,000 issued, which makes this five times as rare as Bruce-Roberts, 13 times as rare as F-318, and over 3 times as rare as F-317. Number of survivors unknown but unlikely to be as many as twenty, mostly in low grades. This is one of the famous ones; ex Limpert collection, illustrated in the Limpert book.

3581 F321 1891 Reissues (blue XX — should have been Series of 1908) Parker-Burke. Fine or so, vivid paper aged. Rarer than commonly believed; presumably most of the 1,544,000 issued (1914 — July 1917) were redeemed, and many of the survivors are in low grades.

3582 F326 1880, Left, elaborate counter. Center, inscription and large brown "rays" seal with rococo L below. Right, "Edward Everett, Secretary of State, 1852," probably by Schlecht. Rev. Large SILVER in brownish-black ink. Bruce-Gilfillan, B56854 (no plate number). VG or better, nearly Fine (bought as VF), bright, vivid, aged, one corner skillfully mended, not affecting any border or design element. Of the highest rarity, only one other reported (No. 43267). One of only 80,000 printed and issued, between May 3, 1882 and Feb. 7, 1883. Believed ex A.A. Grinnell:617, "Fine."

EXCEEDINGLY RARE ROSECRANS-HUSTON $50

3583 F328 1880, similar but large brown "spikes" seal without L; Rosecrans-Huston, A16065+ (no plate numbers). VG or better, fairly bright, vivid, good margins, that at top slightly irregular with minute evidence of mending a frayed area (nowhere near any border element). One of only nine recorded survivors out of only 100,000 printed and issued (April 27 — May 28, 1891). No auction record in many years. Most of the survivors are in low grades; even Grinnell could not find one in full mint state.

ONE OF ONLY THREE BRUCE-ROBERTS $50'S TRACED

3584 F332 1891, simplified design, same portrait, Bruce-Roberts, E751126, face and back plate 1. Fine or better, skillfully washed, bright, vivid. To date we have recorded only three of these, though possibly a few more are around. Grinnell's, of which we do not have the SN, was from face plate 3 and was called "VF, best seen." One of the very few survivors of some 384,000 printed and issued. It would be almost impossible to exaggerate the rarity and importance of this note.

3585 F334 1891, as preceding but Vernon-Treat, H52479, face and back plates 4. Nearly Fine, bright, vivid, not too clean; tiny split at top of center fold has been skillfully repaired. Very rare, one of only 200,000 printed, possibly not all of which got into circulation; less than a dozen traced to date — fewer than the higher-priced Parker-Burke! PLATE

ERRORS CAN BE VERY CO$TLY
CHECK YOUR BIDSHEET CAREFULLY

3586 F335 1891 reissues, Parker-Burke, Fine, vivid, paper aged. Much rarer than an original issue of 864,000 would suggest; apparently unknown in perfect condition (even Grinnell's had a patch on edge!), and for some less often seen than F-334, of which 200,000 were printed, or than some of the earlier 1891 series. A sleeper. PLATE

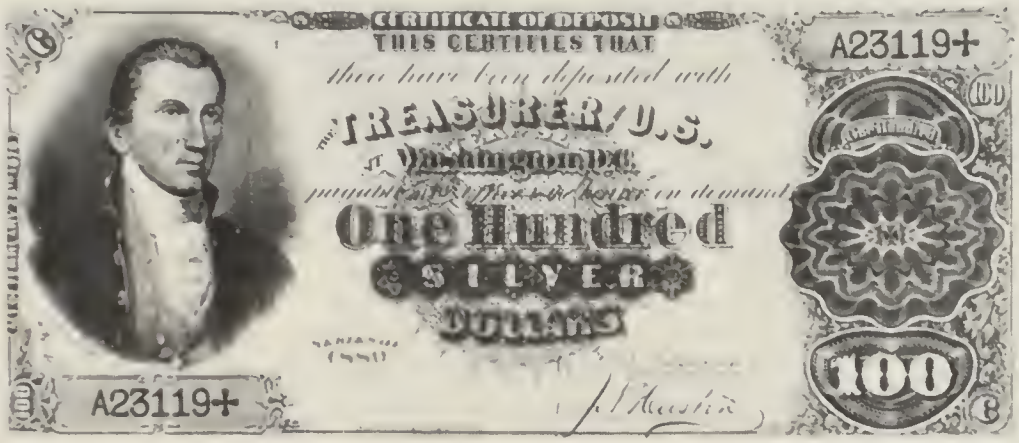
3687 F335 1891 Parker-Burke, worn but legible. Scarce.



Lot No. 3588

3588 F341 1880 Rosecrans-Huston, Lg. brown spiked seal, A23119, face plate 2. Very Fine (3 creases), well-centered with nice borders and color (bought as "Choice Extra Fine"). Extremely Rare! Less than 10 recorded to date; one of 100,000 printed from 4/28 to 5/25/1891. Only one that is known is New (ex: Grinnell). One year of type without "C" or "100". Not listed above Fine in Friedberg — another note for the specialist!

Treasury writeoffs indicate that as of 1964 only 1,400 fives were officially outstanding, of which the vast majority are Tillman-Morgans.

Lot No. 3610

3610 F369 1891 Rosecrans-Nebeker, Brilliant, vivid, crisp CHOICE; faint signs of counting. By a small margin rarest of the 1891 tens, distinctly rarer than the Bruce-Roberts. Currency guidebooks should reflect this fact in pricing these notes. Of a total of 10,468,000 issued of all six 1890-91 varieties. Treasury accounts as of 1964 say only 630 are outstanding. This is probably far higher than the number of survivors in all grades.

THE VERY RARE 1890 F-374 $20 COIN NOTE

3614 F374 1890, Charles Schlecht's vignette of Chief Justice John Marshall, left; center, oval counter. Rosecrans-Nebeker, small red "scalloped" seal. A955903, face plate 1, back plate 3. Very Fine or so (bought as AU), bright, vivid, evidently skillfully washed and ironed. Very rare, one of approximately 24 known to survive out of 652,000 printed and issued (including the tiny Grinnell hoard, SN's 12015, which yielded the only uncirculated survivors).Most of these were redeemed almost immediately for gold. Treasury writeoffs specify 4,860 outstanding (all varieties, 1890-1) in 1929, down to 3,832 in 1955, and only 290 as of 1964, though the actual number of survivors is far smaller than that.

EXTREMELY RARE 1891 SEWARD $50 COIN NOTE

3615 F376 1891 Rosecrans-Nebeker, SN B20726*, face plate 1, back plate 1. Fine (bought as higher grade), skillfully washed and ironed, with a minute split at bottom of center fold repaired with supreme skill (it requires a strong glass to be seen). Exceedingly rare, one of only eight traced to date. Originally, 80,000 were printed in 1892, of which 23,500 were released into circulation. Like other high denominations, these were redeemed quickly; in 1902, only 1,145 were outstanding; in 1915, 238; in 1929, only 55; in 1948, only 25 (though other reports say 23 to 26); Treasury writeoffs of 1964 claim that only 7 are officially outstanding, which testifies mostly to official wishes to be totally rid of even the embarrassing memory of Coin Notes.Two of the eight survivors are said to be mint state, the others mostly well worn, e.g. in Stack's Sept. 1975 sale. The census, except for the present note which had not been observed until then, is in Breen's current serial "The Paper that Started the Panic" in NUMISMATIC NEWS WEEKLY. The present note is the highest SN known and must have been one of the last issued. Therefore, rarer than the $100 "Watermelon," and of equal rarity to the $1000!

Lot No. 3616

EXTREMELY RARE 1890 "WATERMELON" $100 COIN NOTE

3616 F377 1890 Rosecrans-Huston. SN A117375*, face plate 2, no back plate number visible. VF or better (bought as EF), three pin holes, bright, vivid, not too clean; crisp between its three light vertical folds. Extremely rare, one of ten traced to date (an eleventh is reported but not definitely established to be different from the Philpott-Medlar unc.); not known at the time of the Breen census in NUMISMATIC NEWS WEEKLY; either fourth or fifth finest of the ten, not that there is much difference among the top few. Last auction record, 1973, $6,100 (Sale of the 70s:1404). Originally 120,000 were printed and issued of the Watermelon notes, most promptly redeemed; plus 80,000 of 1891, of which only 60,000 were released, almost all redeemed, either two or three survive. Treasury records indicate that of the 180,000 issued of both series of $100's, only 1,160 were outstanding in 1925; only 440 in 1929; only 298 in April 1948; only 296 as of 1955; Treasury writeoffs list only 40 outstanding as of 1964 and reportedly only 20 as of 1968. Hessler claims that only 10 to 12 are known of which supposedly 6 are of 1891; Breen has traced ten Watermelons and either 2 or 3 1891's. These figures speak for themselves. One of the most famous of all Large Size notes, as well as one of the rarest designs.

THE EXTREMELY RARE 1918 BOSTON $5

3636 $5 Boston F781, T-B, Bullen-Morss, A315827A, face plate 2. Fine, bright, vivid, fairly clean for the grade; odd pale vertical discolored streak in center. Extremely rare. We have gone to very considerable lengths in researching these $5's and believe the estimates here more reliable than many published to date. Bureau records indicate only 440,000 were printed and issued, Sept. 9, 1918 — Sept. 15, 1919 (the lowest District total for Series 1918 $5's), the present note being part of a batch delivered on March 1, 1919. The old estimate of 375 outstanding comes from a breakdown of a Treasury account as of Oct. 31, 1944, which totaled 42,661 outstanding $5's on all 12 districts. Those old figures need no longer be taken seriously. Treasury writeoffs of July, 1968 specify only 394 fives outstanding on all 12 districts. To date our head count includes only about 160, but many of them are low-number F-785's from the group saved by Asst. Cashier Bickford. The figure of 394 is only 0.92% of the old 1944 total; proportionately that would call for only 3 of the 394 to be Boston notes. We would estimate possibly 15 to 20 at the outside to survive of Boston fives; the true figure is apt to be nearer to 15 than to 20.

3637 $5 Cleveland F785, T-B, Baxter-Fancher, D597216A, face plate 3, back plate 7. Crisp, bright, clean, choice Unc. Much rarer than low numbers (the first few hundred were saved by Asst. Cashier Charles Bickford) for this variety.

3639 $5 1915 Atlanta F789 T-B, P-Mc, Very Good (thin spot rev.).

3640 $5 St. Louis F798 E-B, White-Biggs, H1432786A, Face plate 8. Fine plus (bought as EF), paper aging, lower part of reverse gradually modulating to bluish. Very rare;only 512,000 printed with these signatures (about ⅓ of the total), and few choice ones survive. The proportionate breakdown of the 394 allegedly outstanding from all districts would mean* only 22 survive; actually not many more have been traced. One of a batch delivered Oct. 8, 1920. PLATE

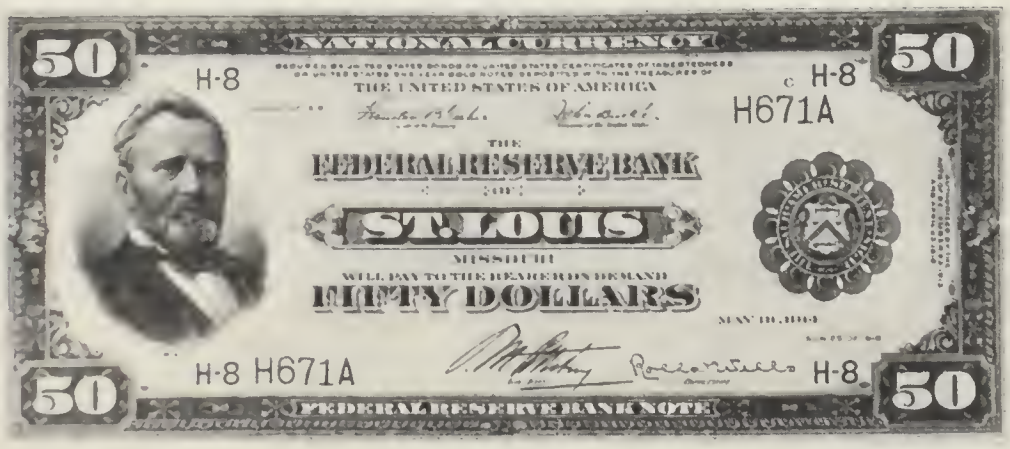
TWO RARE $50 ST. LOUIS NOTES

We take pride in cataloging the first auction ever to include TWO Saint Louis $50's!! The proud new owner of these notes can be certain he possesses a classic numismatic rarity.



Lot No. 3645

CHOICE RARE SAINT LOUIS $50

3645 $50 1918 St. Louis F831 H671A, face plate 1, back plate 3. Crisp New and brilliant, light counting marks at r. end. To date one of some 14 uncirculated survivors, but one of only seven known from plate letter C; for unknown reasons, there are more A's and B's and D's than C's. The present note is one of those long known; it was among those written up by the late W.A. Philpott, and listed in the April 1969 NUMISMATIST, at which time only 24 SN's had been recorded. It might elicit higher bids from neophytes were we merely to trumpet "Extremely Rare! Treasury says only 33 outstanding!" but we are committed to honest presentations. Anyone familiar enough with currency will know what this rarity is, how important it is.

Lot No. 3646

3646 $50 1918 St. Louis F831 T-B, Attebery-Wells, H46A, face plate 1, back plate 4. Close to Fine but bottom half of rev. modulating to blue though Ms. Panama remains green — as the area affected is the sea, the effect is actually rather pleasant. One of only 4,000 printed and issued, May 7, 1919. As of Jan. 1951, 70 were reported outstanding; Treasury writeoffs as of March, 1968 specify only 33. The head count now includes exactly 38, which still leaves this as a rarity; it is also the only really low number known (next lowest is 103, impounded in the St. Louis FRB). Originally ex: W.A. Philpott, Jr., who had 5 or 6 of the known survivors.

Better than most VG's as this has very few pinholes (all minute) and margins without fraying. Extremely rare, one of the rarest $5's of this series; we have seen only eleven to date, though a few more possibly exist out of only 2,007 sheets, therefore, but actual count, almost ten times as rare as the usually seen First NGB of San Francisco!

Lot No. 3663

3663 F1143 THE NGB AND TRUST CO., SAN FRANCISCO, #1994, June 6, 1872, Orig. Series. Between VG and Fine, likely to be called Fine for the note; unusually bright, clean and vivid for the grade. Extremely rare, fewer than a dozen seen to date out of the 4,223 sheets issued.

3664 F1146 FIRST NATL GOLD BANK OF STOCKTON, CALIF., #2077, Feb. 15, 1873, Orig. Series. Very Good. VERY RARE! PLATE

Very Good, many tiny pin holes, margins narrow (top and bottom close) but without fraying; several minute splits at folds. Exceedingly rare, first we have seen without CN out of less than 12 in all. Evidently one from the 600 20-20-20-20 sheets.

UNIQUE 1875 $100 NATIONAL GOLD BANK OF OAKLAND

3666 F1166 of UNION NGB of OAKLAND. Ch. #2266, June 15, 1875, Original Series. Bank SN 8, TSN (57958), plate A. FINE with margins all around and easily distinguishable, "pile of coins" reverse; an attractive appearing note. UNIQUE! Not only did we not know of this note but its very existance was not even rumored. One of only 100 printed in sheets of single $50 and $100 notes. In all, 8,097 $100 notes issued of which 84 were listed as outstanding by the Treasury department in 1914. Hessler estimates ONLY 8 SURVIVED and to date ONLY 3-4 SEEN OF ALL $100's. This note, therefore, is not only unique as a note but Excessively Rare as a type! ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT CURRENCY DISCOVERIES IN NUMISMATIC HISTORY! Destined for the finest of currency collections, possibly realizing a record price for a note.

ENCASED POSTAGE

Encased postage was born out of necessity during the Civil War. As hostilities commenced, the general public, as in most times of political and economic despair, began hoarding gold and silver coins. Hard currency or specie disappeared rapidly and soon even coppers and "white" cents were so scarce that the lack of "small change" significantly handicapped everyday business transactions. The natural alternative to specie was paper money, but there were no minor denominations as fractional currency was not yet invented. However, there was a government security that was produced in denominations under $1.00 - the postage stamp. Soon stamps were commonly used as currency, but they easily became soiled and sticky. Small envelopes solved the deterioration problem but created one of visibility. On August 12, 1862, John Gault of Boston patented a small brass encasement to hold a stamp which contained a mica (the only transparent substance other than glass then known) window with room for advertising on the back. These "encased postage stamps" were readily accepted and welcomed as a replacement of small change. Now these pieces are sought after by token, coin and stamp collectors alike.

CHOICE GREY FRACTIONAL SHIELD

3807 One of the finer shields we have been priviledged to offer in our over 45 years of numismatics. All notes are bright and the shield is vivid. Only two minor paper tears prevent us from calling this shield a gem. Housed in an attractive wooden frame, this shield will make a lovely addition to anyone's office or study.

3808 Very attractive and RARE PINK FRACTIONAL SHIELD in frame. Only three horizontal creases which do not affect any of the notes. A few minor defects and corners of only two notes show some damage. Presented 1st place award for "Excellence of Exhibit" at metro N.Y. show 5/55. Far rarer than the gray shields, with only 10 or 12 believed extant and mostly in poor condition.

INCREDIBLE OFFERING OF 27 UNCUT SHEETS

Not since the celebrated A.A. Grinnell sale in 1945-46 has an auction house been privileged to offer such an extensive collection of uncut sheets. All but one of the sheets is a different issue and virtually every one in crisp Gem Uncirculated condition - as if they were printed yesterday! Certainly this collection will be a reference for years to come and the new owners will be justly proud of their new acquisitions, not only for their beauty and rarity but also because they have been in this remarkable sale.

All sheets are of 12 notes, unless otherwise stated. References and valuations used in this section are the 1977 editions of the Hewitt-Donlon catalog of United States Small Size Paper Money (HD), and the latest Chuck O'Donnell's Standard Handbook of Modern U.S. Paper Money (CO) released in May.

DOUBLE DENOMINATION NOTES

THE MOST COVETED OF ALL ERRORS! Who would not want to possess a "$3," "$15" or "$30" note? Certainly a "Show-Stopper" when properly displayed and written-up. These remarkable errors occured when a sheet printed on one side was taken off the pile for inspection and then mistakenly replaced on another pile of different denomination — or, in the nationals which had 10-10-10-20 printed on a sheet, the sheet was inverted when replacing, thereby causing a $10/$20 and $20/$10 at either end and two inverted $10's (or $20's) in the center. A most unusual "$30" TYPE SET as well as a "$3" and "$15" follow.

EXCEEDINGLY RARE "$30" DOUBLE-DENOMINATION & $10 INVERT PAIR

(the following two notes - $10/$10 & $20/$10 - are offered here as two separate lots. Being both from the same sheet, a joint description follows)

Nationals, Second Charter Period, Denominational Backs. OLD CITIZENS NB of ZANESVILLE, OHIO, Feb. 4, 1901. Lyons-Roberts, Second Security. $10 (inverted back), $20 with inverted $10 reverse - F581/577. CN 5760 M, TSN V174210, Bank SN 17022. The $10 with letter F, the $20 with letter B, crisp and choice Unc. The two lower notes of a 10-10-10-20 sheet, lettered D-E-F-B (replacing the earlier similar sheet lettered A-B-C-A), and so proved not only by the identical Treasury and bank sheet numbers, back plate, which is 149, but by way the fragments of red fibre fit together when bottom edge of $10 is placed against top edge of $20. No other impressions from this sheet are reported. Double-denomination errors have long been recognized to occur mostly in the same way as this pair: the 10-10-10-20 sheet was printed with inverted back (actually inverted face), producing a $10 with a $20 back, two $10 inverts, and a $20 with a $10 back, though most of them were surely recovered during Bureau inspection and destroyed. Grinnell's pair, top and bottom from a similar sheet on a Texas bank, also 10-10-10-20, D-E-F-B, went for a four figure price in the 1976 A.N.A. Convention sale; but even Grinnell had only one other similar note (on the Lowry NB of Atlanta) with a denominational back, and nothing at all on this bank. Of the highest rarity and desirability.

3838 $20 OBVERSE/$10 REVERSE 1902-1908, Bank Of North America, Philadelphia, Pa., F639/613, dated Nov. 24, 1904, sigs. Jordan & Mechenes (pres.), CN 602E, TSN D193087B, Bank SN 34573, plate D. Nice Very Fine. THE ONLY NATIONAL BANK WITHOUT "NATIONAL" IN ITS TITLE (by special permission to retain its original title as one of the oldest banks, founded 1784). Highly desirable error on a bank with a long and interesting past. Less desirable double denomination errors have fetched $4,000; surely this should now attract stronger bidding.

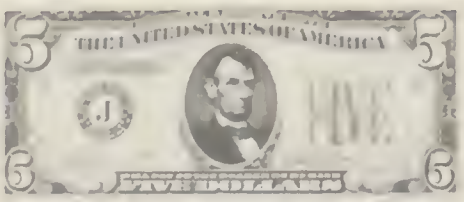
BOSTON 1918 "$3" NOTE

3839 $2 Obv., $1 Rev. F747/708 1918 Boston, Teehee-Burke, Bullen-Morss, A1831281A, face plate 8, back plate 222. VG or so, much aged, shows indications of long carriage in a wallet. There is a similar one on New York, and two others (from a single sheet) on Chicago. One on Chicago fetched $5,000 in the 1976 A.N.A. sale.



Lot No. 3840

EXCEEDINGLY RARE "$15" KANSAS CITY DOUBLE DENOMINATION

3840 Fed. Reserve Notes. $5/$10, 1934D, Clarke-Snyder. J43312816A, face plate 61, back plate 1327. Brilliant, crisp and choice. Apparently only the one sheet was made in error form, and to date very few subjects from it have been recovered. In the 1976 A.N.A. Convention sale, where this rarity was lot 3905, the cataloguer claimed that only three other notes are known from this sheet, two of which have seen circulation; we are unable to update this finding, and conclude that the present note is one of only 12 made (a single sheet), one of only 4 known from it, and one of only two uncs. It fetched $4,250 in the '76 A.N.A. sale.

INVERTED BACK COLLECTION

We are proud to offer this incredible selection of Inverted Backs with many unique specimens, and which ranks among the largest collections ever sold.

3841 $1 F40 1923, Inverted Back. A11231764B, face plate 46 (letter H), back plate 138. Very Good and not too clean, but possibly unique; certainly the only F-40 invert ever reported! The sudden appearance of this invert - after specialists such as Grinnell, Wade, Philpott and Donlon never owned one - proves that this field is live, wide open, and still has the potential for discovery of rarities. PLATE

3842 $2 F57 1917, Inverted Back. A15146552A, face plate 158 (letter D), back plate 3. VG or so, not too clean, but possibly unique in this block. The only other invert ever reported for this number is a star note (611598) and was in the Mehl-Grinnell Duplicate sale, where it brought the astounding sum of $3.15. We have been in correspondence with other specialists, and none of these has to date reported another either of the invert star or from the sheet that yielded this one.

3843 $1 F233 1899, Teehee-Burke, Inverted Back. SN X95238952X, face plate 5220, back plate 5215. Fine or so, light discoloration, a piece about 1/16" square off one corner; but so rare that the grade is irrelevant. The only invert reported of this signature combination to date; believed ex Mehl-Grinnell Duplicates, lot 1854, called "VF", selling for only a slight amount over face value.

3844 $1 F237 1923 Speelman-White, Inverted Back. SN B78400928D, face plate 5927, back plate 3126. Fine, bright, clean, vivid, possibly skillfully washed. Extremely rare, the first of which we have any auction record.

3845 $2 F249 1899 Lyons-Roberts, Inverted Back. SN-:931650:-, face plate 7, back plate 5. Fine, bright, vivid, not too clean. Exceedingly rare, though it is uncertain if one or possibly three inverts survive with these signatures. The first auction record (Mehl-Grinnell Dups.: 1868) failed to grade the note at all; the lot brought only a few cents over face, which is believed to be some small part of the reason why Grinnell did not let Mehl have his main collection. The second auction record, lot 244 of New Netherlands 37th sale, is not available for rechecking as to grade. However, the possibility exists that these records refer to earlier appearances of this same note, which would make it unique; certainly no others are reported.

3846 $5 F849 1914, New York, Burke-Glass, Inverted Back. B85728311A, face plate 635, back plate 492. Fine, vivid, fairly bright, not too clean. The only invert $5 FRN reported to date. No known auction history.

3847 $10 F906 1914, Boston, Burke-Houston, Inverted Back. A28131826A, face plate 186, back plate 473. Fine, partly yellowed, wrinkled. The only invert reported to date. No known auction history.

Lot No. 3848

3848 $100 F1098 1914, Cleveland, Burke-Houston, Inverted Back. D496089A, face plate 5, back plate 25. Very Fine, bright, vivid, fairly clean. Rare even in normal form; only 668,000 were originally issued for the Cleveland bank, only 5,324 (mostly F-1099's) were outstanding as of Dec. 8, 1941 (the last day these were reported in detail); Hessler says only 119 are outstanding on all twelve districts, of which Breen has been able to trace some 55, though more doubtless exist. As an invert, exceedingly rare; only one other is reported, the VG in Donlon's 1972 offering, but it may not even have the same signatures. No third specimen is even rumored.

INVERTED OVERPRINT COLLECTION

This is undoubtedly one of the largest collections to be offered at auction. These intriguing MAJOR ERRORS are certainly rare and attract attention whenever displayed. The occurance of some the past two years has centered attention on them and made this a rapidly growing branch of numismatics.

THE CRISWELL COLLECTION OF SUTLER PAPER MONEY

Grover C. Criswell, ANA President-elect, author, publisher and historian, has been a professional numismatist since the age of twelve. July of 1977 marks his 32nd year and it goes without saying that his name is a byword in paper money numismatics.

For over twenty-five years one of his personal collecting interests has been Sutler paper money, warrants, cardboard scrip, and Military items closely akin thereto.

Generally . . . a Sutler was one who traveled with a specific Army, Brigade, or a Regiment and sold provisions to the troops. Many times the Sutlers tents were the only places available for recreation during long monotonous days and nights, and it was not unusual for Sutlers to have a claim on virtually all of a soldiers earnings on pay day, where the hapless soldier would oftentimes find the Sutler seated next to the paymaster. Even officers sometimes spent half or more of their pay in advance, and pay days were often irregular. Credit, thus was essential and various methods were devised by the Sutlers to try to guarantee payment. The most common of these was a printed warrant, or "payment order", to the paymaster to deliver directly to the Sutler ". . ." dollars of pay. These were supposed to be signed by the company commander, but many times were used without such approval, it being dependent on the individual paymaster as to whether or not he would honor such warrants. The few Sutlers who could get currency or cardboard scrip printed were scarce indeed. Metal Sutler's tokens were considered the most durable and thus desirable. Because of their durability they are the most common Sutler items available, and many examples have turned up in unused condition (albeit not large quantity) from the manufacturers or salesmen's undelivered stores.

The paper and cardboard pieces though, were many times, particularly in the south, productions of necessity in the field, printed by small local printers and newspaper offices. Their quantities printed were small, all pieces were usually issued and reissued and usage was hard. It is therefore virtually impossible to ascertain that any signed and issue pieces of any southern, and most northern Sutlers, exist in better than average circulated (good-very good) condition.

Probably over 70% of the items included in this collection are unique, only 5% or less could be considered common.

INDIAN-CREEK NATION

Wm. Quesenbury was the Creek Indian agent for the U.S. Government, prior to the outbreak of the war, at which time he joined the Confederate Army with the special title of Major & Quartermaster, Department of the Indian Territories. FORT McCULLOCH, C.N. was established by special proclamation of General Albert Pike in 1862. It was named for General Ben McCulloch of Texas who was active in organizing the Indian Nations. The Fort was under construction for a number of months, but it was abandoned the latter part of 1862, when General Pike was transferred to Little Rock. The site of the Fort was southeast Oklahoma in Bryan County, on the south bank of the Blue River at Nails Crossing (near Caddo). The following four notes are, without question, the rarest and most desirable pieces in the Sutler Collection of Col. Criswell, and should bring $5,000. to $8,000. each.
Only two other specimens, besides these four pieces, are known to exist!
